By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive Editor

GRANITE CITY — An opposition meeting to a planned new business drew more than 70 residents to a Wilson Park-area home Thursday.

"I don't think we have a legal leg to stand on," said Tom Hewlett, an opposition leader to a proposed Aldi Store.

The store is tentatively planned to locate near Fehling Road, in a field across from the high school's baseball field. The land is in agricultural use, but is zoned "Commercial 5." Zoning can't be changed without the owner's approval.

Residents are concerned the store will cause property values to decline.

The store must meet city requirements, two City Council members told the group.

"All we can do is ensure the proper traffic flow and storm drainage at this time," said 4th Ward Alderman Philip Miller.

The store will not cause traffic problems because it will draw mainly city residents, said Leonard Purvis on Friday. Purvis is Aldi's general manager, Wright City, Mo.

"We don't expect traffic flow problems here," Purvis said.

If the city is asked to pay the approximately $100,000 needed for storm sewer work, 4th Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak said she will oppose the request and ask the same of other council members. Miller concurred.

Drainage must be addressed, Purvis said, but Aldi does not expect the city to pay the entire cost. Aldi will help pay the bill, Purvis said.

The area's storm sewers already need work, Mayor Von Dee Cruse said Friday. If the store shares the cost, it could help end the area's storm sewer problem, he said.

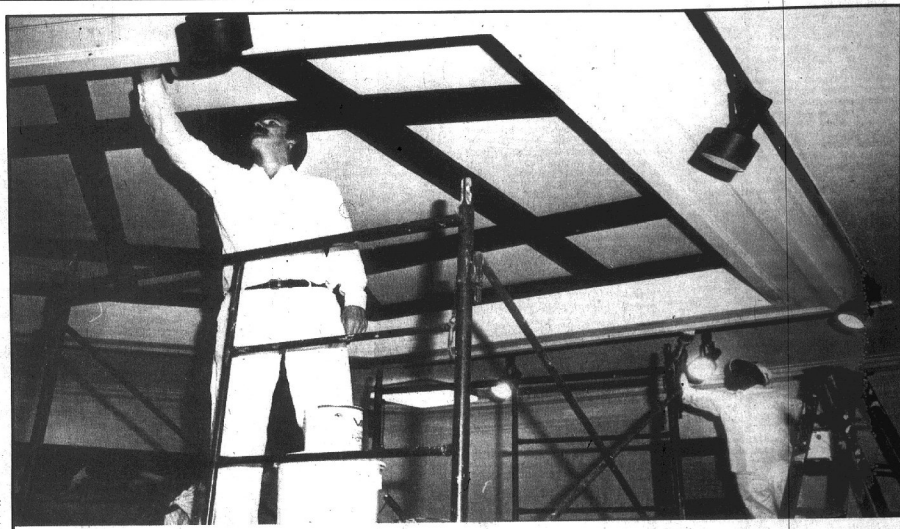

The store will be made of brick and an effort to fit into the community will be made, Purvis said.

The store could economically benefit the city. Improving the city's economy was a key point in Cruse's mayoral campaign.

"If it were to provide jobs, sure it would be of benefit to Granite City," Cruse said of the proposed Aldi Store. "It could generate more money to increase our tax base. Sure it would be of benefit."

What the store can do for Granite City will not lessen concern for the area's residents held by the mayor, he said. The store will have to meet city requirements, he said.

The attorney for the property owners, Leo Konzen, could not be reached Friday for comment.

Local veterans' organizations will take part in a Veterans Day parade at 10 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 10, followed by a wreath-laying ceremony at the memorial on the City Hall lawn in Granite City.

Veterans Day is Monday, Nov. 11, when Quad-City area schools will be closed along with federal and state offices, courts, post offices and banking institutions.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

Post 1300 of Granite City is hosting the Veterans Day parade Sunday.

Paraders are being asked to assemble prior to the 10 a.m. starting time in the parking area at the Granite City Post Office, 2350 Madison Ave.

Marching with the VFW members will be Quad-City Annets Post 51, Tri-City American Legion Post 113 and units of the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

COLOR GUARDS in the parade will be members of the Illinois National Guard. (See VETERANS, Page 12A)

Depot land sale hinges on warehouses

GRANITE CITY — A plan to sell more than 93 acres at St. Louis Area Support Center has disappointed a possible local purchaser.

An Army spokesman said Wednesday the Army wants to sell the land and one of three warehouses located in the "Tract 6" section.

The Tri-City Regional Port District has submitted a land development plan that includes a cargo center and foreign trade zone operations at the former Granite City Army Depot.

BOB WYDRA, port district assistant general manager, said the port plans to partially finance the purchase with money the port district would obtain from businesses renting warehouse space, he said.

"It doesn't seem likely that without all of the warehouse space

(the Port requested) we would be able to finance the purchase," he said.

The Army indicates it needs the warehouses, Wydra said.

"But without really seeing their plan for the space, it's difficult to make a judgement," he said. "If they (the Army) are going to use the space for defense purposes, then we will withdraw."

THE SALE announcement was made to the General Services Administration, Wydra said. The GSA has not notified the port district of its approval of the proposal.

"We are still interested in the acreage," Wydra said. "The area is a real jewel in terms of development."

MADISON — Billie Bosworth was elected president of the Madison Board of Education Thursday night as she began her eighth year as a board member.

During the reorganization session, Edward Dohnal was named secretary and Frank Eaves was re-elected as school treasurer. John Papa was reappointed as attorney for the school district.

Retiring Pres. Paul Bargiel

presided at the session as the board canvassed election results submitted by Evelyn Bowles, Madison County clerk.

BEFORE THE NEW officers assumed their duties, Bargiel was presented with a plaque of appreciation from the board members. He did not seek reelection to the board and was succeeded by John Hamm III, who was seated as a board member.

After accepting the plaque, Bargiel said, "It has been a pleasure serving with this hard-working board and I am sure they will continue in the same way. All the members are of the same idea and that's good."

"In light of the situation I urge you to continue to be diligent in solving the (teacher) strike. I further urge you to remain firm as a board and not let teachers or federal mediators make the final decision. The decision needs to be with the board and that's where it should stay."

Christmas baskets available

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

Quad-City area families and individuals wishing to apply for Christmas baskets and related aid through the Salvation Army may do so in person, starting Tuesday, Nov. 12, at the Salvation Army Corps Center, 3007 E. 23rd St.

More than 900 baskets, toys and other items were distributed by the local Corps last December.

CAPTAIN STEPHEN KIGER, Salvation Army commander, said hours at the office for accepting basket applications will be from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The number of days to apply for Christmas aid has been extended once again this year, and applications will be taken at the office through Dec. 9, Capt. Kiger said.

Applications will not be accepted on the day that surplus commodities are given out at the Salvation Army Center. A date for the distribution has not yet been set, Maxine Rutter, project coordinator, said Friday.

THOSE SEEKING assistance are required to come to the center in person, bringing with them adequate identification, she reported.

A current rent receipt and the most recent utility bill are required before an application will be completed for each family.

The person applying also must know the income of each person in the household and the ages of each individual living there. A Public Aid green card, if the family is served by that agency, will be accepted, the coordinator said.

Finnish student finds Arch familiar

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH

A pilgrimage of sorts was completed last week when Esa-Matti Tamminen of Lieto, Finland, took a trip to the St. Louis Gateway Arch.

Tamminen, a foreign exchange student at Granite City High School, said he was especially excited to make the trip because the Arch was designed by Finnish architect Eero Saarinen.

Esa-Matti Tamminen

map. I didn't know it was so close to St. Louis."

THE 17-YEAR-OLD student first became interested in the exchange program when his older brother, Pasi, came to the U.S. through a similar program.

"He went to the state of Washington and the stories he told about the people there and his experiences made me want to become involved in the program," Tamminen said.

But the Finland native said his greatest motivation for coming to America was his desire to learn English.

HE HAS HAD some difficulty understanding the "slang" used by teenagers, but television has helped him to catch on to the phrases.

"The hardest time I have is reading English," he said. "I must use my dictionary quite often."

"But my English has gotten better. In fact, I have a hard time remembering Finnish now." Because of Tamminen's introduction to the U.S. through television, he hasn't met up with too many surprises here.

ment Blind vet spurned

WASHINGTON — Perhaps spurred by gray hair and a small child's question, "What did you do in the war, grandpa?" thousands of aging veterans have been applying to the government for the medals they earned when they were young and took a lighter view of such recognition.

Many of them have discovered that the military bureaucracy can be as tricky as a jungle trail or the flak over Fortresses Europe.

Take Sam Sortland, 71, of Ambrose, N.D., a small town near the Canadian border. He believes he deserves a Purple Heart for the tortures he suffered as a prisoner of war in World War II, which left him blind.

The Pentagon said: nothing doing. Sortland and his Army Air Corps unit were taken prisoner by the Japanese in May 1942, on the surrender of Corregidor, the tiny rock island at the entrance to Manila Bay. For nearly three years, they were systematically beaten and starved. By the time U.S. Rangers rescued them, Sortland weighed 70 pounds, had lost his teeth and was blind.

Yet when Rep. Byron Dorgan, D-N.D., tried to pry a Purple Heart out of the Air Force for his constituent, he got this reply:

"An analysis of these cases showed that many prisoners awarded had been awarded Purple Hearts on what would have been insufficient evidence to support them to a medal who was engaged in actual combat on the field of battle. It would be extremely difficult to check brutality, starvation or malnutrition for the purposes of award of the Purple Heart."

Sortland, the Pentagon explained, would be entitled to the medal if he had been wounded while being captured, when trying to escape or during bombardment of the prison. The distinction is lost on Sortland. "Whether you got blind fighting or blind in prison camp doesn't matter," he told our reporter Jenny Cunningham. "You're just as blind either way."

By way of a consolation prize, Sortland will be awarded a Bronze Star as a North Dakota air base, thanks to his congressman's efforts. "People like Sam haven't asked for much," Dorgan said. "The little things are important. They demonstrate that this country doesn't forget."

Not everyone would agree with this cheery assessment. Rep. Barbara Boxer, D-Calif., asked the General Accounting Office to investigate the military awards program after she learned that a constituent had been waiting 40 years for 14 medals he had earned in World War II.

The GAO reported that two magazine articles, telling how to apply for medals earned but never received, had generated a backlog of 114,000 applications in 1983. The situation has improved since then, the auditors found, but they warned that proposed changes in the system could create another major backlog.

Currently, only the Army processes its own medal requests. The other military services' requests from veterans are handled by the National Archives records center.

But the archives was the services to take over, and the GAO is afraid this will cause delays. The Navy has agreed to handle requests from Navy, Marine and Coast Guard veterans, but the Air Force is still thinking it over.

EASY ACCESS: Are you sick and tired of getting form letters back from government bureaucrats that neither answer your inquiry nor tell you where to turn for an answer? You're not alone. Reps. Richard Lehman, D-Calif., and Gerald Kleczka, D-Ill., have introduced a bill requiring that all letters to the public from the federal government include the name and telephone number of a person to whom further inquiries should be directed. The name of the proposed law is the "Federal Government Easy Access" bill.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY: Wonder what to do in case of nuclear attack? Apparently, the answer is not being taken for granted by federal banking officials. A dead-serious memo has been issued giving instructions for the proper behavior following a nuclear attack. The first rule is: "Bank examination will be suspended immediately, and bank examination personnel ... will take such actions as may be necessary or prudent for their personal safety."

THE FRIENDLY SKIES: U.S. military personnel are supposed to fly on U.S. carriers in their travels around the world. But in the aftermath of the brutal slaying last June of a serviceman aboard a TWA airliner hijacked to Beirut, that rule has been rescinded. Safety considerations can override both the "fly America" rule and the greater expense. If a cheaper flight would take a soldier through a trouble spot, whenever possible, of course, U.S. personnel will fly U.S. military aircraft.

Phoenix House goal is safety

This article is a dedication of gratitude to all our Quad-City friends whose generosity and support have enabled us to open the doors of Phoenix House to domestic violence victims and their children.

On a personal note, I would like to thank all the social service and law enforcement agencies which have "networked" with us over the past six months and my family, our volunteers and board of directors, whose caring and sharing have carried me through the long hours needed to make this a reality. Special thanks also are extended to Jerry Brown, director, Victim/Witness Assistance Program, and John McGuire, both from the state's attorney's office of Madison County.

The phoenix house is being used for emergency housing by our clients until Orders of Protection can be obtained or more permanent housing can be found. The address of Phoenix House cannot be disclosed to the public for the protection of the clients.

The house is manned 24 hours a day by concerned, non-judgmental, caring volunteers. Our volunteers are trained in crisis intervention and provide a support system for the clients.

Your views

CAROL LEE CHIAPPA is the assistant administrator-advocate for the Phoenix Crisis Center Inc. The center provides shelter for women needing relief from domestic violence.

In the middle of November a second training session will be held. A 14-hour workshop consisting of information dealing with domestic violence victims, procedures for handling hotline calls, chemical dependency awareness, CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) and basic first-aid.

Additional volunteers are needed in the areas of hotline workers, translators and housekeepers.

Hotline workers handle referrals to agencies, contact the advocate in emergencies and always are good listeners. The advocate, always on call, has a pager. Transporters are responsible for assisting the clients in going to court, the state's attorney's office, doctors' offices and other agencies. Housekeepers' responsibilities include answering the telephone, intake of clients, and "being a friend."

Since April of this year we have been able to assist 46 clients ranging in age from 15 to 46. This assistance was given through our office at the rededicated Youth Building, 1254 Niedringhaus Ave.

I now that we have Phoenix House, we know our clientele will be increased greatly. Even though our house is "small," it is "big" in offering peace and a feeling of safety.

Through the kindness of the community we have furnished our house in a warm and comfortable manner. We are still in need of crisis children's toys, bunk-beds, silverware, throw rugs, dish towels, bath towels, fire extinguishers, smoke alarms and a television.

The ultimate goal of Phoenix Crisis Center Inc. is to provide a safe setting in which abused women and their children can evaluate their situation and determine what changes they want to make.

We recognize that domestic violence is reflective of societal values and problems and, therefore, we will work to end domestic violence through community education and awareness advocacy in the courts, legislative systems and involvement with other community and public systems.

God bless you all, and we remember each one of you who has come forward in behalf of our clients. You are responsible for the Phoenix rising from the ashes to "new beginnings."

Letters

Explains differences on binding-arbitration issue

To the Editor:

This letter is to clarify the reason for the recent job action taken by the teachers of Madison County.

You (the school district) can persuade teachers to work for substantial wages and few benefits, but you cannot force them to accept, promise their principles by accepting something that is unfair.

For the last 16 years, teachers have worked under a contractual agreement that allowed advisory arbitration when an impasse is reached in the grievance procedure. Under advisory arbitration, the decision of the arbitrator was just that, advisory; therefore, it was not binding on either party.

This form of arbitration was completely acceptable to the board because they did not have to comply with the decision of the arbitrator if it was not agreeable to them.

The Illinois legislature recently passed legislation mandating binding arbitration when an impasse is reached in the grievance procedure. With binding arbitration, the decision of an arbitrator becomes final and binds both parties.

Instituting binding arbitration does not seem like any monumental change. We are sure that kind of school districts whose contracts contained advisory arbitration respected the decision of the arbitrator and complied with that decision.

Why then is it so difficult for the Madison Board of Education to implement binding arbitration into the grievance procedure in place of advisory arbitration? Is the definition of grievance was satisfactory for the last 17 years, why is it now a reason to keep children from attending school?

It was not even important to the board when negotiations began in March of this year, as evidenced by the fact that you will not find it an issue on their initial negotiation proposals.

If the teachers are willing to submit any possible grievance to a neutral third party arbitrator, why is the Board of Education unwilling to do likewise?

As educators of our community's children, we surpass the boundaries of teachers in that we also try to instill in our pupils the ideology of equality and fairness in dealing with others.

By doing this, we would be no less than hypocrites if we compromised those very principles we are trying to instill in the future citizens of our country, by accepting a grievance procedure that is not fair and just.

A MADISON TEACHER

Friends, brothers ... Coming up next, M*A*S*H

Repeats of repeats of repeats. KTVI, Channel 2 in St. Louis, is once again repeating the longtime favorite of late-night television viewers, M*A*S*H.

Having run out of the most recent episodes of the 407th at night, Channel 2 is now showing the first-year shows featuring Col. Blake, Trapper John, Hawkeye, Frank Burns, Radar, Hot Lips, Spearchucker and Father Mulcahy. That was back in 1972.

The station has purchased the right to air the shows through 1990, and probably will, especially if news anchor Larry Connors has anything to say about it.

When M*A*S*H was first on the air I wasn't smart enough to sit down and watch the show regularly. Little did I know. But there have been times since that I made my schedule around M*A*S*H, almost religiously.

I still watch the repeats, admittedly. By doing this, I am a M*A*S*H-aholic.

Few remember how many times the series has been repeated here. The reporter prints one side, but has a statement that the other side would not comment, the reporter made an effort to be fair and can't be faulted. But if the other side isn't mentioned, bias exists.

Since coming to Granite City, I

Columnists' club

Patrick Foley

Either you like it or you don't — like many television programs. I suppose many people's lives have a little of the M*A*S*H mayhem and madness built in. Mine does. There are ironies and compromises of life we all have to deal with daily.

I can easily relate to the characters, but each for different reasons. I can also appreciate the military aspect of the show better than most viewers, being a veteran of the Army and a draftee for two years.

Even the locale is somewhat familiar. I was stationed in Thailand for 18 months during the Vietnam conflict.

Life was a countdown of 730 days, until the day I'd go home. Just like Hawkeye, Winchester and, of course, Klinger. I didn't try to get out of the Army by using the antics of Maxwell Q., but I wanted out just as bad.

Although I don't particularly like to be reminded of my Army days, I must admit I did have some good times, just like at the 407th.

It seems like everytime I watch an episode I notice something new. And I'm sure I've seen each of them a dozen times or more.

The friendships, brotherhood and camaraderie are so believable, even if you have seen a particular episode enough times to be able to lip-synch the dialogue.

Frustration, despair, conflict, competition, guilt, life and death, it's all in a day's work at the 407th. Not unlike many of our lives.

The show helps me keep a healthy perspective on my own life by reminding me of how good I've got it and just how bad many people have had and still have it.

The old adage "War is Hell" comes to mind and I know the Korean conflict was a lot worse than the show could possibly portray, especially since it was a television comedy.

Even though the show was discontinued in 1983 because the producers, writers and actors said they had run out of new and fresh material to work with, I'm sure many of us M*A*S*H-aholics can think of many good topics and stories they could have used, probably enough for another 12 seasons or more.

What if Col. Blake hadn't died in the plane crash and had been stranded somewhere in Korea with amnesia, only to be seen by Hawkeye while on leave in Seoul?

Or, what if Radar passed through the 407th as a Red Cross volunteer? Remember how he was reluctant to leave Korea when he received orders to go home?

Or, the Army, in its infinite wisdom, sends Frank Burns back to the 407th, only to be reunited with Hot Lips.

The list could go on almost endlessly, at least for us M*A*S*H-aholics.

Of course, there is always the introduction of new characters to the show, logically leading to a host of storylines for the writers to feed from.

And think of all of those "new" repeats Larry Connors could introduce each night with "Coming up, next, MASH."

Reporters are as biased as any other persons

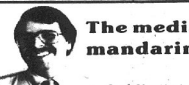

Is unbiased reporting a myth?

Absolutely maybe.

As many prejudices are held by newspaper reporters as by any other business people.

But most newspapermen operate under self-imposed restraints. When reporting the news, they seek and print both sides. No attempt is made to bias the reader, that kind of writing goes only on the editorial page.

Even the most conscientious reporter, however, will have trouble making some stories sound fair. As a frustrated reporter once told me after several telephone calls, nobody on either side thought he'd been fair.

While in college, one of my journalism instructors, a Catholic, remembered when he was asked to write a story dealing with a Protestant-Catholic disagreement. Because of his religion, he went out of his way to be fair to the Protestants. As a result, some Catholics called to ask what he had against them.

Though most newsmen, who want to remain newsmen, try to be fair, there are some who — for whatever reason — try to put their bias into news stories. The easy way to check a journalist's writing is to see if there are two sides reported. If the reporter prints one side, but has a statement that the other side would not comment, the reporter made an effort to be fair and can't be faulted. But if the other side isn't mentioned, bias exists.

Since coming to Granite City, I have heard I am on this side or that.

For the record, I'm on everyone's side sometimes; sometimes alone in my views; and sometimes favor one side over the other. I determine what side I take based not on political ties, but on what I believe is best and fair.

And when I take a stand, my views are on the editorial page. The reporter staff is not allowed to write to fit the editor's position. And when I act as a reporter, I also try not to write to fit my personal prejudices.

The news is the first rough draft of history.

History must be recorded as it occurs, not as we'd like it to happen.

Revitalization action needed

By BILL MILLIGAN
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Members of the Downtown Promotion Committee (DPC) Thursday night got the chance to meet two men who could help shape the future of the central business district.

More than 30 merchants from 18 businesses attended a meeting at Marrion's Delicatessen where DPC President Elmer Stille introduced Al Orbals, city coordinator, and RC Bush, executive vice president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

STILLE STRESSED the importance of the two men's work to accelerate local economic development.

Orbals has been employed by Granite City to rehabilitate and revitalize retail marketing citywide.

Bush concentrates his effort on industrial growth and retention for the Quad-City area.

EFFORTS TO REVITALIZE downtown Granite City are nothing new, according to Orbals. Four studies in the last 20 years have made recommendations for improvements.

"There's a difference this time," Orbals told the DPC.

"In the past, as soon as these studies were done and the final checks issued, the people hired to do the study moved on," he said.

"IT'S SINK OR SWIM for me," Orbals said. "If I can't turn this city around in four years I'll be branded a failure and have to find another line of work."

Orbals came to Granite City last month after completing work in the Cherokee Village business district of south St. Louis.

"How do we know the city will cooperate with you and pass the kinds of ordinances that are needed?" asked Barry Loman, vice president of Central Bank of Granite City.

Mayor Van Dee Cruse wasn't on hand to answer the question until later in the meeting.

"THERE HAVE BEEN plenty of studies, but no action," Cruse said. "This is the first time the city has put up the money to make things happen."

The (aldermanic) Council is committed to the central business district," Cruse said.

DPC members discussed plans for a Christmas parade Saturday, Nov. 30, at 10 a.m. Also discussed were operation of Santa's Cabin during the holiday season and holiday decorations for the central shopping district.

United Way passes goal of $660,000

By SUSANNE INDELCATO

GRANITE CITY — The Tri-Cities Area United Way has surpassed its goal of $660,000 by $26,273.

The campaign's theme, "A Community That Cares," became "more than a theme. It became a reality," campaign chairman Ben Johannpeters said Friday.

THE FUND CAMPAIGN ended Friday with every participating group raising more funds than anticipated, according to United Way Executive Director Janet Quorton.

The business and commercial group raised $93,506, surpassing its goal of $80,000. The professional group exceeded its goal of $60,000 by $272, Quorton said.

The government, clubs and organizations, and private donors group raised $56,952 with a goal of $52,000.

THE INDUSTRIAL group (corporations and employees) raised $475,549, topping its goal of $458,000, she said.

The United Way campaign began Sept. 17. Proceeds will help provide operating funds for 16 agencies during 1986.

Illinois Public Action Council commends Rep. Sam Wolf

The Illinois Public Action Council has given State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) an 82 percent voting rating for the spring session of the General Assembly.

Robert Creamer, executive director of Public Action, said Wolf voted for seven of nine major pieces of legislation strongly supported by the group.

Wolf said two of the bills he voted for, SB 1021, the Public Utility Rewrite Act, and HB 300, the Community Right to Know bill, were bills he considered vital.

"Rewriting the Public Utility Act was essential in bringing this law up with the times, as it had been well over 60 years since Illinois implemented the public utility law," Wolf said.

"With the toxic and hazardous waste problems facing us, we need meaningful Community Right to Know legislation. As a sponsor of HB 300, which died in the Senate by only four votes, I plan to reintroduce similar legislation next year so citizens will be able to find out what hazardous substances may be stored in their neighborhoods."

Other legislation endorsed by Public Action that Wolf voted for included SB 486, which creates a new energy assistance program for low-income households; SB 300, the Spousal Health Insurance bill; SB 944, which provides financial assistance to parents for day-care expenses; and SB 1183, creating a child nutrition program to fight infant mortality.

DAV to host memorial

Disabled Veterans Chapter 53 at 1417 19th St. will host a memorial service at noon Wednesday, Nov. 13, for retired Major General Robert W. Grow, 91, who died Sunday, Nov. 3, at his home in Falls Church, Va.

He was commander of the 6th Armored Division in World War II, according to Bob Kennerly, commander of the local chapter.

The wartime division included Battery A of the 128th Field Artillery, Missouri National Guard, St. Louis.

Retired Sergeant Major Clifford T. Yarbrough of Granite City arranged the memorial service in this area.

Yarbrough said the late Gen. Grow had requested memorial contributions be made to DAV chapters.

Gen. Grow visited St. Louis for the 6th Armored Division Association's reunion in 1978, when Yarbrough was national president of the 6th Division group.

The 6th participated in the Normandy campaign and the Battle of the Bulge in Europe during World War II and was among the units of Gen. George S. Patton's 3rd Army that liberated the Buchenwald concentration camp in 1945, Yarbrough said.

GC kidney dialysis center being considered for SEMC

By SUSAN SIGNAIO-WEICH
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — City outpatient care facilities may be expanded to include a kidney dialysis center.

If approved by the Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board, the center would be located in St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Chances for approval are good if they are based on need alone, said Lorraine Butler, administrator for Renal Dialysis of St. Louis and for Renal Dialysis of Illinois.

"We have a number of Illinois patients that are currently coming to our St. Louis and our St. Clair County facility," she said. "We feel the need for a third facility is warranted."

The St. Clair County facility is operating at more than 100 percent of its utilization rate and the St. Louis facility is at 95 percent, Butler said. A study of the situation, she said, started more than a year ago.

There are about 190 dialysis patients in the four-county region of Madison, St. Clair, Monroe and Clinton, Butler said, adding, "We chose Granite City for the proposed site of the facility because it is close to Interstate 270 and would provide easy access for many patients.

"The patients' treatments require them to be on a (blood cleansing) machine for three to four hours, three times a week. It's a life-sustaining treatment."

Butler said the 12-station facility would employ 12 persons when it goes into full operation. She said some local people would be hired.

The project would cost $208,090, Butler said this would include equipment, and work on plumbing and electrical modifications to the space offered at SEMC.

She said the response thus far from SEMC administrators has been "very positive."

Before the project can be approved, a series of public hearings will be held.

The Granite City hearing will be held at 10:30 a.m. Nov. 15 on the lower level in the main library, 2001 Delmar Ave.

If public response is positive, the project could be approved as early as January 1986.

A REMINDER FROM THE LAW TODAY

In recent months, newspapers, television and the rest of the media have devoted a tremendous amount of coverage to the issue of medical malpractice. Many of these programs and articles convey the impression that members of the medical profession are victims of baseless malpractice actions brought by clever lawyers, and that those suits cause the cost of insurance and medical care to skyrocket. Is this true? A recent study by the Public Citizen Health Research Group shows that the medical profession almost never disciplines those doctors who do not do their jobs right. During the year 1983, for example, medical authorities in nine states and the District of Columbia took NO SERIOUS DISCIPLINARY ACTION against any of the 18,000 doctors who practice in those areas. Can it be seriously said that not one of these doctors ever failed to live up to the standards of care expected of them? Of course not. These figures suggest that, instead of concentrating its efforts on making it harder for injured people to recover, the medical profession would best serve society by taking steps to ensure that its less capable members either sharpen their skills or find other lines of work. Such steps would lower insurance costs while providing increased protection to the general public.

We will be discussing this and other relevant topics on this Tuesday's program.

Cruse appoints youth committee

GRANITE CITY — A township youth committee was appointed by Mayor Von Dee Cruse Wednesday night.

Persons named to the committee are: Barbara Varadian, Karen Melton, Louise Moad, Agnes Frynk, Bob Bell, Nancy Marti, Rhonda McDowell, Don Knight, Bud MacMillan and Becky Chandler.

The group has been budgeted $5,000 this fiscal year for activities for young persons.

Churchich friends to host GC event

Area supporters of Bob Churchich's candidacy for Madison County sheriff in the Democratic primary election in March will host a wine, cheese and sausage party from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 11, at Charlie's Restaurant.

Tickets costing $10 each may be obtained from Ronald J. Veizer, retired Granite City police chief, by calling 677-1810. The public is invited.

Madison County Sheriff Emil Tofant, who has decided not to seek reelection in 1986, has endorsed Churchich's candidacy.

In law enforcement for 28 years, Churchich is chief of police in Hartford and a member of the Madison County Board.

2 organized crime figures accused of extortion scheme

Two organized crime figures were indicted by a federal grand jury in East St. Louis this month on charges of conspiring to extort money from nightclubs and massage parlors in the Metro East area.

Arthur "Art" Berne, 73, of Carlyle and Matthew "Mike" Trupiano, 46, of St. Louis were named in a four-count indictment for conspiracy and interstate travel to aid in racketeering in the extortion scheme.

U.S. ATTORNEY Frederick Hess identified Berne as head of an organized crime faction in southern Illinois and Trupiano as leader of an organized crime group in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Berne and Trupiano appeared in East St. Louis before U.S. Magistrate Gerald Cohn, who set their trials for Dec. 2 before U.S. District Judge William L. Beatty in Alton.

Berne is charged with one count of conspiracy and two counts of interstate travel in aid of racketeering. Trupiano is charged in one count of conspiracy and three counts of racketeering.

THEY PLEADED innocent to the charges in an arraignment before Cohn and were released on $100,000 cash and property bonds.

On conviction, Berne would face a maximum penalty of 30 years in prison and $30,000 in fines, Hess said. Trupiano would face a maximum penalty of 35 years in prison and $40,000 in fines.

Hess said Berne and Trupiano conspired from November 1982 through March 1984 to extort money from Dennis Sonnenschein, operator of the Rub-A-Dub-Club, a massage and hot tub parlor in Brooklyn, and Golden Girls, a club in East St. Louis. They also discussed the planned extortion of a night club in Centerville, Hess said.

Indictment of Berne and Trupiano is the climax of a two-year undercover investigation into organized crime activities in the Metro East and St. Louis areas, Hess said.

A KEY WITNESS in the investigation of Berne and Trupiano is Jesse Stonking, an undercover FBI informant, who infiltrated the crime organization, Hess said.

Secret tape recordings made by Stonking led to the indictment in October 1984 of Clinton Bramlet and Joseph W. Brooks of Bphtallo and Theodore W. Rousseau, a former Madison County deputy, of Godfrey, on bank robbery charges.

The indictment against Berne and Trupiano describes conversations on a plan to bomb a topless nightclub in an attempt to force the owners to turn to organized crime for protection, Hess said.

ON NOV. 21, 1983 Berne met with Stonking, the undercover informant, and "told him of an idea he had to extort money" that involved damaging the business slightly by use of a dynamite bomb, the indictment alleges.

During the meeting with Stonking, Berne stated that after the bombing occurred they (owners) would come to us and we would take the heat off them for so much money," according to the indictment.

The extortion plot involved the "use of threatened force, violence and fear directed toward Dennis Sonnenschein and his interests."

2 men arrested after fight at Wendy's

Two Granite Citizens were arrested Nov. 4 after they were allegedly involved in a beating incident behind Wendy's Restaurant and then were hurt in an auto accident.

Scott A. Harris, 19, and David L. Harris, 17, both of 2518 Ivy Lane, were charged with property damage and battery. David Harris also was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

One allegedly used a bat to hit windows of the auto of Charles Shawn Fear, 2509 Revere's Route, and also kicked the doors. The car's right rear quarter panel and wheel well were damaged.

Mike Svoboda, 2521 Sheridan Ave., a patron of Wendy's, tried to stop the altercation and was hit in the right arm with the bat. Svoboda wrestled the bat away to defend himself, but the pair got the bat back and fled in a vehicle. Shortly afterward, their car collided with a concrete block wall of the K-mart Store, 3655 Nameoki Road. Both were injured.

David Harris was arrested at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and Scott Harris was booked at the police station when he was brought in by a relative. The brothers were released to their family's custody on a notice to appear in court.

MADISON MAN IS CITED FOR WRONG-LANE USAGE

Madison County authorities cited a Madison man for wrong-lane driving in connection with an accident Oct. 29 at Central Street and Hildebrand Avenue in the Cloverleaf Addition near Madison.

Randolph Rangel, 2040 Hildebrand, told authorities he parked his car in the driveway the night before and discovered the next morning the car had been hit.

A witness described a suspect vehicle as a light-colored station wagon, and five plastic pieces of trim were found near the crash site. Officers later contacted David Smith in the 1900 block of Fourth Street, East Madison, and the trim allegedly matched Smith's station wagon.

Smith told officers the accident occurred late at night and he did not wish to disturb the car's owner at such a late hour.

1972 PLYMOUTH STOLEN
Julian Wallace of 2110 Delmar Ave. told police Nov. 3 his parked 1972 Plymouth Duster auto was stolen during the night.

17-YEAR-OLD CHARGED WITH BEATING GIRL, 16
Bryan D. Cox, 17, of 2003 Washington Ave. was arrested Oct. 21 for battery. Carol Forshee, 16, of 2004 Washington said he struck her in the face with his fists and hit her head on the sidewalk while she was at 24th Street and Washington Avenue.

Forshee suffered a swollen and cut upper lip, scratches on her right eyelid, right cheek and right neck area, and an abrasion on her right eye. Cox was released on $102 cash bail.

ARRESTED ON WARRANT
Janice R. Gray, 2122 Adams St., was arrested Nov. 5 by Granite City police on a traffic warrant from St. Clair County. She was released on $75 bail.

PASSENGER INJURED WHEN CAR HITS PARKED TRUCK
Kelly Crouch, 21, of 3225 Bluebird Lane was injured Nov. 3 when a car she was riding in collided with a parked pickup truck. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The driver was Terri P. Crouch, 19, also of 3225 Bluebird. The truck was owned by Jerry Tire Sales and was parked in the 2300 block of Emert Avenue.

Terri Crouch said she turned to say something to her passenger when the crash occurred. She was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

STEREO TAKEN FROM TRUCK
Chuck Ellis, a truck driver, said Oct. 21 a burglar broke a wing vent on his truck while it was parked on the lot of Strickland Trucking, 2201 Charles St. Taken were a CB radio, a radar detector, an in-dash radio and stereo cassette player, a large cooler, tools and a state-to-state permit book.

WOMAN HIT AND KICKED
Richard A. Taylor, 21, of 107 Kirkpatrick Homes was arrested at his home Nov. 2 for battery. His wife, Tammy Taylor, alleged he struck her in the face with his fists and kicked her. Taylor was released on $52 bail.

Group aids inmates, families

The Madison County Christians Upholding Persons (CUP), a local branch of the Ministry of Criminal Justice, has been organized to help offenders and their families, while in jail and after they have been released.

The organization conducts Bible study, writes letters to offenders and provides other services.

Upon their release from custody, offenders are provided temporary housing and food, clothing, job counseling and spiritual guidance and support.

The group helps families by offering assistance with transportation needs, spiritual guidance, locating of community resources, and moral support aimed at improving family relationships during release on parole.

Paul Howard, the Madison County chairman, can be contacted at 877-3535. Bill Miller, public relations chairman, can be reached at 344-1579.

Westport presents David Brenner

ST. LOUIS — Question: A man whose favorite childhood snack is "soft pretzels with mustard" and is never caught eating tuna fish? Answer: It's David Brenner, one of St. Louis' favorite comedians, who returns to the Westport Playhouse Nov. 21-23.

In 1983, Brenner added another dimension to his career by writing his first book, "Soft Pretzels with Mustard." The best-selling book, which contains anecdotal accounts from Brenner's youth to the present, has already gone into multiple hardcover and softback printings for Arbor House Publishing and The Berkley Publishing Group, respectively.

His most recent endeavor for Arbor House is "Revenge Is the Best Exercise," a light-hearted look into our health conscious world. His soon to be published new book is entitled, "Nobody Ever Sees You Eat Tuna Fish."

In May 1984, Brenner set a precedent in Atlantic City with the Sands Hotel by becoming the first celebrity/comedian to serve as official representative of any hotel on the Eastern seaboard. The position has now put Brenner in the company of such celebrities as Frank Sinatra and Kenny Rogers, who also serve as spokesmen for Atlantic City.

Brenner's career achievements have been recognized by his fans and peers. He has been honored by the American Guild of Variety Artists as "Male Comedy Star of the Year." He was honored by Atlantic City Magazine as "Best Comedian Headliner." In 1985, Brenner was voted "College Contender of the Year" by the National Association for Campus Activities.

His most cherished award, however, occurred May 5, 1978. That day was proclaimed "David Brenner Day" by his home city of Philadelphia. In his youth, being escorted into City Hall by policemen meant being fingerprinted. This time it meant he was to be presented with the keys to the city.

Tickets may be purchased at The Westport Playhouse Box Office, all Famous Barr and Dillard's Ticketmaster locations, Regal Sports at 3131 Olive, and Team Togs and Tickets at Chesterfield Mall and Northwest Plaza. To Order by phone, persons may call 1-314-878-2424; group rates and senior citizen discounts are available.

'The Great Race' slated Nov. 12-24 at Westport

Kelly Herrmann Entertainment Inc. is keeping The Children's Theater alive in St. Louis. Alan Broadhurst's "The Great Race" (The Tortoise and the Hare) will be presented at The Westport Playhouse Nov. 12-24.

The action of the play takes place in and about the "Woodlands." As the title implies, the main focus of the play is on the slow but determined tortoise and his ever-so-cunning opponent, the hare.

They have many endeavors along the way which lead to an exciting climax. The audience perceives the encounters of the tortoise and the hare through the eyes and ears of the animals; the animals communicate in English and the "unintelligible" humans communicate in foreign tongues.

For ticket information and reservations, persons may call 1-314-878-2424; group discounts are available.

Old Six Mile planning Pioneer Open House

Thanksgiving plans were made as the Old Six Mile Historical Society met at Bethel Evangelical Church, 2450 Stratford Lane, for its November session.

After the pledge to the flag, the group paused for a moment of silent prayer in memory of Louis Joyner, an actor who killed in an auto accident last month.

Plans were finalized for a Pioneer Thanksgiving Open House to be held Nov. 24, the Sunday before Thanksgiving, from 1 to 4 p.m. Co-chairmen Lillian Delp and Marguerite Lexow will be in charge of refreshments and decorations.

Marguerite Barker of the Ways and Means Committee announced the sale of a 'solid milk-chocolate Statue of Liberty' to be sold by members of the society for $1.50 each. Part of the profit will be given to the Statue of Liberty restoration fund and the name of Old Six Mile will be placed on the list of donors.

Georgia Engelke reported that she, Lillian Delp and Marguerite Barker attended a Region I museum meeting sponsored by the Illinois Historical Society Nov. 1 at the Mitchell Museum, Mount Vernon.

Jack Whitlock, director of the museum at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, and David Huntley of the museum at SIU at Edwardsville spoke on how to develop exhibits and preserve them for future generations.

Marilyn Hamilton of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs explained the Illinois Promotion Act and the matching grant program.

Bonnie Krause, a research specialist, spoke of work carried out in museums and explained organizations can receive grants for historic preservation and for maintaining ethnic traditions.

Thanks were sent in a letter from Mrs. Mattland Timmerman, president of the Madison County Historical Society, for the program and tour of the Old Six Mile Museum at the annual MCHS meeting.

SIUE researchers asked for information about James G. McRoberts, first mayor of Granite City.

The work day for November will be Saturday, Nov. 23, from 9 a.m. to noon.

Old Six Mile will meet at the First Granite City National Bank for a Christmas party Sunday, Dec. 1, at 5 p.m.

The history of the bank will be shown by Jim Townley, director of marketing and advertising.

After the film, the buffet will have its annual Christmas dinner at Burns Cafeteria at 6 p.m.

Refreshments were served by Mary Jessee, Jeanette Scannell, Velma Devine and Margaret Fechte.

The speaker for the evening was Alma Beckman, who welcomed many of the Strackeljah family who were in attendance. She said that in her research she learned that many of the Strackeljahs living today did not know one another.

Speaking about the Strackeljahs, she related that John came to the United States from Germany in 1847 with his wife, Mary, four sons, Henry, age 18, Fred, 16, Caspar and Herman, and a daughter, Mary, so his sons would escape compulsory enrollment in the German armed forces.

The family landed in New Orleans and traveled up the Mississippi River to St. Louis.

After arriving, they learned that there was a severe cholera and smallpox epidemic. A short time later, Mary, his wife, and Caspar, his third son, died.

Left alone with his family, John went to Pleasant Ridge, a German settlement, that had a Lutheran Church and a parochial school.

Here Strackeljah found employment with farmers and placed his children in the homes of residents.

When Herman, the youngest, was 10 years old, John rented land and established a home for his family.

But two years later, the father died. The boys were industrious and were able to find employment and go to school and confirmation.

Henry, the oldest, worked as a hired man until he was able to buy land, marry Anna Haggerdink and establish a home. They had two sons, John and Herman, who farmed in the Sand Prairie area.

Fred, the second son, remained in Sand Prairie, working in the potato fields in the summer and finding work in St. Louis in the winter. He married and settled on a farm. They had five children, Mary, Elizabeth, Christina, George and John.

Mary, daughter of John Strackeljah, and the grandmother of Mrs. Beckman, went to St. Louis when she was 15. She had no trouble finding work as a housemaid.

She attended Bethlehem Lutheran Church and there met John Heimbakel, a young man who worked at a St. Louis yard and was an orphan. On May 19, 1859, they were married in that church.

When the Civil War was threatening St. Louis, her husband John joined the Army. During battle, he was wounded in the head and felt the effects of the injury the rest of his life.

After the war, Mary and John came to Sand Prairie, rented land and farmed here for 18 years, after which they moved their belongings by boat to a farm in Jackson County in Illinois.

Herman, the youngest of the family that came from Germany, started working at a brick yard in St. Louis for $19.50 a month when he was about 13 years old. At the age of 17, he enlisted in the Union Army and participated in many hard-fought battles.

During the battle of Pea Ridge, he received a severe wound in the leg. After receiving an honorable discharge in 1864, he came back to the Sand Prairie area and found employment by farmers. In 1871 he was able to get some farmland after he married Anna Winter. They began their married life in a little log cabin but after much hard work they built a modern residence surrounded by farm buildings. They were the proud parents of 13 children.

Julie Fournie celebrated her 7th birthday Nov. 1 at Pizza Hut with her mother, Elaine, and Emilee Rollins, Rachael Bottari, Martin Bottari and Thomas Rollins.

St. Margaret's Men's Club will be sponsoring its annual sausage and pancake dinner Sunday, Nov. 10, from 7:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The ladies' club will be selling cookbooks at the event.

The outstanding youth this week is Heidi Hunt. She is the daughter of the Rev. Richard and Mrs. Julie Hunt who reside at 30 Oaklawn Drive. Heidi has been chosen to be a foreign exchange student next school year, representing Granite City.

Heidi was selected by District 646 of Rotary International after several interviews and applications.

It was determined that she was the best qualified because of academic abilities, community involvement, awareness and overall ability to represent our community proudly. She was chosen from several applicants.

Heidi and two other students, from Highland and Edwardsville, will be attending Rotary Youth Exchange Weekend this weekend in Kewanee, Ill.

Amvets and Auxiliary host special programs

Amvets Post 51 and Auxiliary held a variety of activities during the past few weeks for its members and guests. The programs gave new members a chance to meet with older members, starting with a social night. A chili supper was served followed by an evening of games, with winners receiving prizes.

A barbecue dinner was held in observance of Amvets Day, which honored veterans and promoted membership. Members and officers of Amvets Post 204, Post 83 and Post 64 attended, as did members of the Missouri-Illinois Rebel Squadron of Submarine Veterans. A dance followed the dinner and entertainment.

Several Amvets and Auxiliary officers and Junior Amvets officers participated in Channel Tamers' 10th annual jamboree, with all proceeds donated to Oath Inc. in Madison. A Cabbage Patch doll was sold along with cotton candy and other candy.

Commander T. C. Varner announced upcoming events will include Sunday turkey shoots and a membership night for Vietnam veterans.

On Oct. 26, a Halloween party was held for Junior Amvets and their guests.

Alpha Center party set Nov. 14 at Engelbert Hall

A volunteer appreciation reunion party will be one of the beginning events to celebrate the 5th anniversary of the Alpha Center for Women, a non-profit maternity home located at 2104 Cleveland Blvd. The current board of directors will be hosting the party Thursday, Nov. 14, at 7 p.m. in Engelbert Hall, 1613 10th St., Madison.

Entertainment will be provided by Ruthie's Ragtime Gals and hand-crafted prizes will be awarded.

All past and present volunteers are being invited to attend. Anyone needing information may call 876-2030.

First child arrives for Mr., Mrs. Rock

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Rock of Edwardsville announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Oct. 27 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The new arrival has been named Jamie Renee and weighed 7 pounds, 10 ounces.

Grandparents are Mrs. Norma Rock of Granite City and Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Surette of Trenton, Ill.

Granite City Press-Record/Journal Sunday

Steve Kaman

Steve G. Kaman, 77, of 1021 Washington Ave., Madison, died at 10:20 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 7, 1985 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He had been ill for one year and was under a doctor's care.

Born in Madison on Nov. 18, 1907, he retired from Alton State Hospital in 1980 after 10 years in maintenance work there. He previously was a contractor.

He was married to Dorothy E. Blesch on Sept. 29, 1934, at St. Michael's Church in Stanton, Ill.

He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison and St. Mary's Boosters.

Mr. Kaman is survived by his wife, Dorothy; two sons, George Kaman and William F. Kaman, both of Edwardsville; two daughters, Mrs. Bernard (Ethel) Ryce of Granite City and Mrs. Larry (Susan T.) Papa of Decatur; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Visitation began at 3 p.m. Friday, Nov. 8, at Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, 501 Madison Ave., with the Rosary at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The Rev. Donald J. Meehling said a 10 a.m. Mass Saturday, Nov. 9, at St. Mary's Catholic Church, 10th Street and Alton Avenue, Madison, with burial at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Masses are suggested.

Katherine McBride

Katherine N. (Phillips) McBride, 82, of Collinsville, formerly of Granite City, died at 12:32 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 7, 1985, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Belleville.

Born in Tennessee Ridge, Tenn., June 5, 1903, she was a resident of Granite City for 60 years and was a member of Tri-City Park Tabernacle.

Mrs. McBride is survived by her husband, Archa McBride; one daughter, Mrs. Gilbert (Edith) Skyles of Collinsville; one sister, Daisy Pulley of Tennessee Ridge, Tenn.; one brother, Richard Phillips of Cumberland, Tenn.; and one grandson.

Visitation was held from 5 to 9 p.m. Friday and services were conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 9, at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave., with the Rev. James Parks officiating. Burial was at Sunset Hill Cemetery.

Wilson Noble

Wilson Noble, 86, of 1020 Douglas Ave., Venice, was pronounced dead at his home at 10:10 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 7, 1985, by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Morton.

Mr. Noble had been in ill health with a heart ailment.

He was found lying in the bathroom when police entered the dwelling through a window, shortly after 9:30 a.m. Thursday. An emergency truck and ambulance were summoned.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Officer Funeral Home, 2114 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis. Friends may call 874-4244 for details.

Veterans

tional Guard, the VFW 12th District and the 12th District's POW/MIA (Prisoners of War and Missing in Action) squad.

Joining the marchers will be a Shriners' motorized unit from the Alton Shrine Temple, Red's Trucking Company and a fire truck and ambulance from the Granite City Fire Department.

The paraders will go south on Madison Avenue to Niedringhaus Avenue, turning west on Niedringhaus to the City Hall at Edison Avenue.

THE PUBLIC IS invited to attend the City Hall lawn ceremonies, which will include greetings from Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse.

A prayer will be offered by the Rev. Ted Dugan, chaplain for the VFW 12th District, prior to the laying of the wreath on the memorial.

The City Hall offices in Granite City will be closed on Monday, Nov. 11, as well as local banks, savings and loan firms and state offices here.

CITY HALL offices in Madison and Venice will remain open on Veterans Day.

Wilson Park's ice skating rink will be open for a special skating session from 1 p.m. until 3:30 p.m. Monday.

Fees for skating at the afternoon session will be 75 cents and $1.30 for resident children and adults, respectively, and $1.30 and $2 for non-resident children and adults.

Christmas

TRADITIONALLY, the holiday assistance program which provides food baskets, clothing and other Christmas gifts to needy area families is financed through the local Tree of Lights campaign.

This year's fund-raising drive will be launched at a kickoff luncheon at the Salvation Army Center. Persons wishing to attend may call 451-7957.

At the kickoff event, the campaign goal will be announced.

SERVICE CLUBS, civic organizations, church and business groups and individuals who volunteer their services each year to ring Christmas bells at Salvation Army red kettle sites may register now to help on specific dates by calling the number listed above, Mrs. Rutter said.

The kettle will be placed outside area business places, with the bell-ringing appeal getting under way on Friday, Nov. 29.

Bosworth elected

SUPT. JOHN PALCIEFF informed the members that he and the city attorney will attend a hearing Nov. 13 at 2 p.m. in the Board of Review office. The hearing was requested by Consolidated Aluminum Corp., which is asking for a reduction of its real estate assessment. Palcief added that any board member could attend.

The board refused permission to a St. Louis church group which wanted to use the high school auditorium to present a play. The decision was made on the basis that the church is not within the School District 12 community.

The state highway division is to make a survey in conjunction with speed reduction signs on McCambridge Avenue, including the 700 block where many school pupils cross, Palcief said.

Highway officials were contacted after the board discussed hazards to students in October.

PERMISSION for Richard L. Spillers, assistant superintendent of schools, and two Chapter 1 staff members to attend the eighth annual Chapter 1 Carbondale conference was granted.

The event will be Nov. 14-15 at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

renting SLASC warehouse space.

The warehouse space could be used by businesses and the rest of the acreage could be developed as an industrial park, he said.

KERNS SAID if the warehouses were sold and rented, 70 to 200 jobs would immediately be created.

"And that doesn't count the number of job openings there would be if industry develops on that acreage," he said. "I can't think of anything we need more in this area than jobs."

Parents protest teachers' strike

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Staff writer

"There's no talking going on and they won't even meet," Lois Wilson said Saturday, expressing frustration and concern about the strike of Madison teachers and the lack of any scheduled talks between faculty and the Madison Board of Education.

About 30 parents of Madison students staged a protest at 2 p.m. Friday at the Madison School Board offices as schools remained closed for the fifth day because of a teachers' strike.

Wilson and the other parents are planning to continue their protest action Tuesday outside the school board offices, she said. No classes are scheduled Monday at Quad-City area schools in observance of Veterans Day.

"I want my children back in school," Wilson stressed. The mother of three children, she is especially concerned about her daughter, Harelyn, 17, a senior at Madison High School.

"This (strike) really could affect her in her senior year," she said. The mother is worried also about the younger children.

"The kids are out roaming in the streets and I'm afraid they'll start gang-banging and getting into trouble," she said.

"We can't sit in the negotiation sessions and listen so we don't know what it (strike) is all about. We want them to come to some kind of agreement to get the kids back in school," Wilson added.

The primary issue in the dispute is language for grievance procedures. No talks between the board and the Madison Federation of Teachers were scheduled this weekend.

Hartigan warns about 'Trooper' solicitation

Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan has warned consumers to be wary of solicitations from the Troopers Benefits Association Inc. He issued the warning after obtaining a preliminary injunction barring the organization from soliciting and holding funds for charitable purposes.

The preliminary injunction, which also names as defendants Frank C. Cornelius and Gerald Van Meter, both Indiana residents, was obtained after Troopers Benefits Association failed to register with the attorney general's office. Solicitations had been made for a publication entitled "The Trooper."

Hartigan said there are many highly reputable organizations with similar names that are in full compliance with the law.

Hartigan urged anyone who has been solicited by Troopers Benefits Association to immediately call his office at 312-917-2995.

Finnish student

"YOU HAVE A LOT of the same foods here that we have in Finland—we have McDonald's," he said. "The only new food I've tried here is Chinese food," which he liked, he said.

Tamminen said students in Finland dress similarly to those in Granite City except Finnish students don't wear jeans as much.

Even the weather in the U.S. hasn't been much of a surprise.

"FINLAND IS COOLER — it doesn't get up into the 100s," he said.

The only things that have intrigued Tamminen about the U.S. are cable television and automobiles.

"We have only two stations in Finland, but here you always have something good to watch," he said.

He has become especially interested in baseball and football coverage.

ferent types of cars people drive in the U.S.

"WE MOSTLY have Japanese cars in Finland for fuel economy," he said. "Fuel is almost three times the price in Finland as it is here."

The legal age for driving in Finland is 18, so he hasn't had a chance to drive any American cars.

Tamminen said he has been able to continue his hobby of scouting since coming to the U.S. He said he joined a scouting group at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

His scouting experiences have helped him to get along with others, especially children, he said.

WHILE IN AMERICA, Tamminen is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reuter of 2017 Manley Ave. They have a 10-year-old son, Jeremy.

In the future, Tamminen would like to try a career in tourism, perhaps being a tour guide in a country outside of Finland. "That is why learning English is so important," he said.

Tamminen said he plans to return to the U.S. someday.

"I'd like to come back when I get some money," he said. "I'd like to see more of the country."

Maroons rally to nip Flyers; advance to Super Sectionals

By DAVE WHALEY

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — When the St. Louis Cardinals gave the Kansas City Royals five outs in the bottom of the ninth inning of Game 6 of the World Series, the Royals happily accepted and won the game.

The moral of the story: Don't give a good team any more chances than they need.

That lesson was learned, painfully, by the East St. Louis Flyers volleyball team here Thursday night in the finals of the Granite City Sectional against the high-flying Belleville West Maroons.

Leading 14-11 in the opening game, the Flyers suddenly made several critical mistakes and the Maroons charged back to win 16-14.

The Maroons then took the second game, 15-10, advancing to the Salem Super Sectional with a 3-1 record. The Flyers bowed out at 2-7.

"I knew we were in big trouble when we let the first game slip away," said East Side Coach Clarence Goldthree. "West was down a little in that game and we let them back in. When you've won as much as they have, you don't let a chance like that get away."

Benita Clark had two big spikes to give the Flyers a 13-8 lead in the opener, and after the gap was cut to 13-11, the Flyers got their 14th point and were in a position to win.

But a spike by Dana Frerker bounced off the Flyers all the way to the ceiling of the gym before falling inbetween two East Side players.

With Connie Ballard serving for the Maroons, the Flyers missed on three consecutive hits to make it a 14-14 game. The Flyers then got the serve back for one play, but Frerker hit a perfect spike down the middle of Flyer territory to retrieve service.

Becky Shryock's serve went sideways off Felicia Moore's hands into the bench to give the Maroons a one-point lead, and the Flyers failed to return Shryock's next serve and the Maroons had survived the tense opener.

"We've played some teams that were close to East St. Louis," said Belleville West Coach Charles Goldman. "But I don't think any of them were quite as good. We haven't faced anyone who could hit and block like they did. They just wouldn't let it die tonight."

The second game was another seesaw match, with the Flyers holding the upper hand in the early part, with leads of 2-0 and 4-3. Nancy Scheller, one of the Maroons' big hitters, was having trouble hitting shots into the net, which led directly to two East St. Louis points.

With the score 4-4, the service changed six times with no scoring before the Maroons took the lead, for good, with four points off of Shryock's serves.

But the Flyers kept battling back, making it 11-10 on a spike by Tamila Jones. It was then that Scheller altered her strategy and made two big plays. Instead of trying to spike the ball at the net, she tapped the ball over the arms of the Flyers' front line, once to retain service and the next time to increase the margin to 12-10.

Connie Ballard then added a spike and Scheller blocked a spike attempt at the net to make it 14-10. A Jill Plessmeyer serve then fell among several Flyer players, and the title belonged to the Maroons.

"This was not the best we have played," Rodman said. "Our intensity level was up very high and we had a lot of character, however. I knew it would be tough to beat them three times in one year. Tamila Jones was just great for them. But we did it."

Goldthree admitted the Maroons had his team's number.

"They just know they can win against us," he said. "We don't have that feeling yet. We played on emotion tonight, and that's not good if you lose a close game like that first one. A letdown is bound to happen after we let them back in the match."

The Flyers' coach wished the Maroons well, but said it would be a rocky road to the state title.

"West will have a problem at state," he said. "The tournament is set up by the people up north and I bet they end up playing the best team in the state in the first match there. That would be too bad, but if they can win, it would make us look good. I don't mind losing to the best team."

Goldthree promised to be back next year.

"We're losing only three seniors (Jones, Melba Goliday and Marilyn Lee)," he said. "And one of our best players, Netta Goliday, had a broken arm and wasn't able to play at the end of the year. We'll be better."

A relieved Rodman knew the road would only get tougher.

"There aren't any pussycats left in the state now," he said. "But if you're going to beat us, you will need to pass well and you can't break down in any way. Our girls will find a way to beat you if you slip up."

The Maroons were set to play Matton (28-6) in Salem at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Venice native gets hole-in-one on wrong hole

Sometimes people think too much, and it costs them.

Such was the case with Paul Morris, a native of Venice now living in Wheaton, Ill.

Morris shot a hole-in-one on the sixth hole at the recent Cosley Park Classic in Wheaton. And it had not been for his own "brilliant" idea, Morris would have walked away with a brand new $20,000 Chrysler LeBaron.

The LeBaron was originally placed at the sixth hole and offered to anyone who could score a hole-in-one there during the tournament. But Morris, a co-sponsor in the Wheaton Park District, decided at the last minute to move the car to the seventh hole because it would be safer and more visible there.

Morris' ace was accomplished on the 142-yard sixth hole using a nine-iron. When no one won the car, Morris dutifully drove it back to the dealer the next day.

Morris' father, Milton, owns Milnor Manufacturing Company at 1300 McKinley Ave., Venice.

Boosters meeting on Nov. 12

The Granite City Booster Club will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 12. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be held in the high school cafeteria.

Picking the winners is easy with a 'system'

Sports of all Sorts

By Al Barnes

As Joyce (my wife) and I watched the $3 million Breeders' Cup Classic last weekend on television, both of our minds travelled back 50 years of our married life. In fact, to just a few months after we tied the knot and started out housekeeping down in Memphis, Tenn.

It was early in the spring of 1935. I had a Saturday off, and I decided to drive over into Arkansas — of Springs to be exact — and take in a day of horse racing at the then-slightly tainted Oak Lawn course.

Slightly tainted, that is, in those days just coming out of the depths of The Depression. It was one of many horse ovals which had the reputation of having at least one race each day where "the people in the know" could get well.

Get it straight, I say Oak Lawn had the rep, but then and now, I wouldn't go out on a limb and say so. That trip took place just 50 years ago. Saturday, as we watched the Breeders' Cup series of races, we idly began making plans to celebrate the 50th birthday of our first-born son, Alvin Tilford Barnes III on Nov. 12.

Just as soon as we started talking about our trip to Hot Springs, she turned on me in a near-rage and reminded me of just how much of a clod, of an unliking sort, I had been by continuing to smoke in the closed car when she was in the early months of "carrying your child."

As we drove toward Hot Springs, I had to stop the car several times to let her out to upchuck.

In time, we reached Hot Springs, early in the morning and checked in a resort hotel and had breakfast. As we were being seated, we met another recently-married young couple and we joined them at a table.

Our new-found friends were also planning to attend that afternoon's races.

So, my fellow young husband and I put our heads together and decided to approach the problem of picking the horses in a scientific manner instead of depending on blind luck or hunches. Consequently, we went to the hotel's news and cigar stand and bought ourselves three papers which carry, for the benefit of novices like us, a list of those papers' horseracing experts' "picks" for all the tracks around the nation.

We figured it this way: If two of the three experts picked a certain horse to win, we couldn't lose. The three papers were the Louisville Courier-Journal, the New Orleans Times-Picayune and our own Memphis Commercial Appeal.

After we reached the track, me and my buddy "picked" our horses and proceeded to bet, each of us, $2 apiece on our choices.

Meanwhile, the girls (and Joyce was just 17 at the time) were also making their choices from the track program and combining their $1 each to bet on their "picks."

After seven races, my buddy and I hadn't picked a single winner. In fact, I'm pretty sure that some of our choices still haven't "come in" even now, 50 years later, they were so bad.

But the girls, lo and behold, had somehow, almost by magic, picked seven straight winners.

I had laughed at their method of picking the winners, which the other girl had left to Joyce.

"Well, I just read the list of entries, and the ones that looked like the best, I picked," Joyce explained, as if it was the only way to do it.

As I have already said, I was convinced. So, as we were trying to make up our minds on the eighth race, I asked Joyce, "What's your girl's choice in this race?"

She said, "I haven't decided just yet. Just a minute."

And, only a minute later, she said, "I like Ducky Devil."

So, as I said, I'm a convert and I took a $20 bill out of my billfold and bet it on Ducky Devil at around 20-1, which would more than get me ahead for the day and for several months, too.

Sure enough, here comes the longshot, Ducky Devil, home in front by about seven lengths, and my friend and I were again solvent and then some.

But, woe is me. Up flashes on the tote board that the result was being challenged and, sure enough, Ducky Devil was disqualified and I was out another $20 bill.

The next day (Sunday), Joyce and I are back in Memphis, and we picked up our big Commercial Appeal on the porch and the paper's horseracing writer had thought the disqualifying of Ducky Devil was just another case of the track's faithful being favored that he wrote his lead on the race and they put an eight-column banner over the story.

So, Joyce had, in fact, picked eight straight winners.

So, last Saturday, I asked her who she was picking to win the Breeders' Cup Classic. Without a second's hesitation, she said Proud Truth would win and I winced because everyone knew that Chief's Crown was the overwhelming favorite to take it all.

But, you guessed it, Proud Truth won it in a thrilling stretch run over Gate Dancer by a length. And, finishing a really tired fourth was Chief's Crown.

If only I could get Joyce to work at it and continue to pick the nags for me, I could retire with millions. But, no, she doesn't approve of gambling.

Boosters plan athletic banquets

The Granite City Booster Club has announced plans for its fall athletic banquets.

On Thursday, Nov. 14, the Granite City football team will be honored. On Nov. 18, a banquet will be held for the volleyball, golf, cross country and girls tennis teams.

The final banquet will be Wednesday, Nov. 20, when the Granite City boys soccer team will be honored.

In addition, cheerleaders will also be recognized at these banquets. All three banquets will begin at 6 p.m. and will be held in the high school cafeteria. All athletes will eat dinner compliments of the Booster Club.

Cost for all others planning to attend the dinner will be $2 a plate, or up to $9 per family. Each family is asked to bring a salad or vegetable dish that will serve eight persons.

Persons planning to attend should make reservations through the high school.

Deer, forecast is good one

Deer hunting should be as good or even better than last year's record season, according to reports by the Illinois Department of Conservation.

"Populations in the central and western part of the state are thriving, particularly in Pike, Adams, Hancock, Peoria and Brown counties," said Forrest Loomis, head of the department's forest game program.

He added that deer are also plentiful along river valleys. In the south and northwest parts of Illinois, the population is increasing but at a slower rate.

Last season, hunters took 29,216 white-tailed deer. Archery hunters bagged 4,200 deer in 1984. Hunters using shotguns with rifled slugs or muzzle-loading rifles will hunt on Nov. 15-17 and on Dec. 13-15 in all Illinois counties except Lake, Cook, Kane and DuPage, where firearm hunting is prohibited.

Archery deer season began Oct. 1 and continues through Dec. 31, except if its suspended during the two weekends of firearm hunting in all counties which have a firearm season.

Hunting hours extend for a half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Park district organizing broomball leagues

The Granite City Park District is currently looking for teams to play in its Men's and Co-Ed Broomball leagues.

The entry fee is $100 per team and there is a $17.50 non-resident charge for any player who does not reside within the park district. Games will be played on Monday and Wednesday in the Men's League and on Tuesday in the Co-Ed League.

For more information, contact the Wilson Park Office at 877-3059.

Permit drawing at Horseshoe

A public drawing will be held for trapping permits at the Horseshoe Lake State Park office on Nov. 28.

Registration will be held on the day of the drawing from 9 to 11 a.m. The drawing will be held at 11 a.m. Those participating must have a 1985 trapping license.

For additional information, call 931-0270.

GC parks seek instructor

The Granite City Park District is accepting applications for an instructor for their Saturday morning basketball program for youth in grades 3 through 6. All interested applicants must reside within the Granite City Park District. Applications may be picked up at the Wilson Park office and returned as soon as possible. More information can be obtained by calling the Wilson Park office at 877-3059.
